

Investment in sustainability in the technology sector

Source: How Sustainable is the Technology Sector? – 2022, iResearch Services

Most companies in the tech industry invested between $500,000 and $1 million into ESG development in the last financial year (36%). In comparison, the majority are investing either $500,000-$1 million or $2-$5 million on sustainability initiatives in the current financial year (31%).

Where is this investment going?

Year agnostic average investments breakdown

Most investment is allocated to the departments of IT (37%) and Infrastructure/Sustainable technology (30%).

Investment priorities by role

Average investment of sustainability in each level

Heads of Sustainability and Core program roles expected to receive largest increase in sustainability investment

For in-depth insights on industry perceptions on sustainability in the technology industry, get a copy of our report today.

How Sustainable is the Technology sector?

Learn more